

Staff

Mike Koopal

Executive Director & Founder

mike@whitefishlake.org

Mike is the founder and executive director of the Whitefish Lake Institute. Mike's career began in the fisheries division of Montana Department of Fish, Wildlife and Parks working in the Clark Fork and Blackfoot River drainages. Mike then traveled to Nevada to study Lahontan Cutthroat trout for the Summit Lake Paiute Tribe, and in Alaska, he worked for the Prince William Sound Aquaculture Corporation. Upon his return to Montana, Mike was a partner at Watershed Consulting for eight years where he specialized in fisheries related issues in Montana, Idaho and Nevada.

Mike serves on the Upper Columbia Conservation Commission (UC3) where he serves on the Early Detection and Monitoring Committee; the Flathead Basin Commission where he serves on the Executive Committee; and is a Montana Watershed Coordination Council (MWCC) board member. He served on the Whitefish Climate Action Plan Committee, and provided technical assistance to the Bigfork Stormwater Advisory Committee. He was a contributor to Voices of Our Lake a co-coordinator of the second and third editions of the Montana Lake Book. Mike is a trained Aquatic Invasive Species Inspector/Decontaminator. He is a past recipient of the Individual Achievement Award by the Montana Chapter of the American Fisheries Society for his outstanding contribution to the protection and enhancement of fisheries resources in Montana.